"We Are Also Citizens And We Want Action"

The Carmel Planning Commission, after two years of fruitless effort to alert the County Board of Supervisors to the immediate need of industrial smoke control, at their meeting Wednesday afternoon, approved the following letter to the board.

The Pine Cone recommends the letter's serious consideration by all citizens, and suggests that those who wish to preserve the beauty of this area, and those who are interested in maintaining the status it enjoys as a vacation playground, will offer the Carmel Planning Commission their co-operation and influence in convincing the board of supervisors that industrial smoke control is essential to the long-range welfare of Monterey County.

TO THE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

For two years the Carmel Planning Commission with the approval of the City Council, has been urging official and semi-official bodies or groups in the Monterey Bay area to consider measures which might be helpful in avoiding pollution of the air by industrial wastes. For two years we have begged that some steps be taken to avoid the creation in this region of the pall of smog that curses Los Angeles . . . and we have gotten only soft answers, vague soothings and no results.

It is not our intention to induce others to conform to the Carmel pattern. We recognize that each community will develop in the direction that is determined by its resources and the temper of its residents. We have no quarrel with the industrial program that is being advocated for the other seaboard regions of Monterey and Santa Cruz Counties. Our only concern is that such industrial development does not doom all of us to a steady inhalation of chemical waste, a dull dingy, gritty twilight through even our sunshiny days, and a choking, eye-watering, yellow-brown fog on our damp ones.

The local conditions are distressingly ideal for the creation of smog: hot interior valleys into which the cool ocean air flows, and a reversal of the air flow in the early morning; a fog blanket that creeps inland during the evening, catching and holding the industrial smoke, dust and chemicals in suspension, and which withdraws to sea later with its smog. The winds then carry the informal load far and wide through all the Bay area.

The deleterious effect of such smog upon humans is common knowledge; the effect upon green vegetables, flowers and trees has recently been stated to be just as harmful. Why then is there a reluctance to face the problem squarely, a slow "brush-off" given to the suggestion that a reasonable ruling be made which would oblige industries that discharge smoke, dust or chemical wastes into the common air we breathe, Warrant Officer George L. Herzenberg, Cadet Pvt. 1st Class Howard W. Brown, Jr., Cadet Alice Squires and Seaman John Sargent, participants in a recent SARCAP of the Civil Air Patrol. Another is to be held November 2 from the Carmel Valley Airfield (see story on this page). Conspicuously absent from the local unit of the Civil Air Patrol, made up of Monterey Peninsula citizens, are Carmel residents. They are invited to join. One does not have to own his own plane, or know how to fly, to be eligible. The organization especially welcomes high school boys and girls, who are interested in aviation, as members of the cadet corps.

Civil Air Patrol Will Stage SARCAP On Nov. 2 Probably At Valley Base

By SALLY ORD

With Carmel Valley their probable base, the Peninsula unite of the Civil Air Patrol will stage a SARCAP November 2 under the direction of the Fourth Rescue Command at Hamilton Field. What is a SARCAP and what is the Civil Air Patrol?

SARCAP is shorthand for Search and Rescue Civil Air Patrol. In this case, it will be an aerial paper chase in which the high brass from Hamilton Field will hide the "downed plane" somewhere between the Valley and Big Sur, and the local squadron will wing out over the wild, rugged, roadless terrain in their practice mercy flight. And what is the Civil Air Patrol? Who are these latter-day Minutemen who form our modern local and nation-wide committee of safety? They are your neighbors and mine.

Squadron 54, our Monterey Peninsula group, is commanded by Lt. E. F. Thues, World War II USAF pilot, who wears the uniform of the Pacific Grove police department during his working hours. It was Lt. Thues who, one November day last year, found the two boys who had been stranded in the Santa Cruz mountains during a snowstorm, resulting in one of the rescues with which the local squadron is credited. Lt. Col. Silas Bass, an Infantry officer stationed at Fort Ord, wears an Airforce lieutenant's uniform with the CAP shoulder ornaments on Thursday evenings when the squadron meets at the Naval Air Station. Presiding over the files and records of the organization is Lt. Theresa Jones, the attractive adjutant whose husband, Capt. Alton Jones, is Communications Officer at Group Headquarters. Lt. George Fuhrman is Public Information

Beardsley Will Filed For Probate

The will of the late Alice W. Beardsley, for many years a Carmel resident and anonymous benefactor to local institutions as well as to numerous individuals, was filed for probate last week end, and the hearing has been set for October 20, 10:00 o'clock in Judge Jorgenson's court in Salinas.

With the exception of her home, its furnishings and her personal effects, which she left to her sister, Ray W. Farley, to distribute among her friends and relations, all the estate was left in trust with the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company, in three separate trust funds to her sisters, Emma R. Wellman, Jean Wright and Ray W. Farley; in the case of Emma Wellman's predeceasing her, her trust should be terminated and added to the trust of the other sisters. Mrs. Wellman died several years ago. (The will was dated January 4, 1947.)

The estate consists largely of shares of capital stock of Wellman, Peck and Company.

Information on the value of the estate is not available since the inventories have not yet been taken, but her attorney, E. S. Pillsbury of San Francisco, expressed the opinion, "It isn't one of these great estates, possibly not as large as people are likely to think."

Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Hutchings and Shelburn Robinson were hosts to the Civil Air Patrol Cadets for lunch after the Navy Open House. The Hutchings, enthusiastic Civil Air Patrol members, fly their own plane, and though they now live "over the hill" were not so long ago students at Carmel High School. Mrs. Hutchings (Sheila), is the daughter of City Councilman Francis Whitaker.

P. G. & E. RATE INCREASE

Rate increases, effective November 10, were allowed the Pacific Gas and Electric Company by the Public Utilities Commission Thursday. The electricity bill for Carmel residents who were paying $3.35 will now be $4.13.

The company had asked for an increase of $45,704,000 which was reduced by the PUC to $30,642,000 which will allow the company a 5.55 percent return on its investment. Statewide increase is about 16%.

PADRE FOOTBALL SQUADS TRAVEL TO GILROY TONIGHT

Bloody but unbowed after absorbing their grid lessons from the powerful Haybalers last Friday night, the Carmel High football teams trek to Gilroy for a 6:00 o'clock double-header with the red-hot Mustangs. Gilroy, a newcomer to the league last season, has served notice that they will be rough to handle this year by larruping King City, 31 to 0, in their league-opener last Friday. King City was considered on a par with Pacific Grove and Hollister in early season forecasts so the Gilroy gang must be loaded with grid talent. Fans remember last year's thriller between Carmel and Gilroy which ended with the Padres on the long end of a 21-20 score.

Gilroy is coached by Tom Burt who should be familiar to Carmel football fans, having coached at Arroyo Grande last year. Tom has installed the same potent T formation which he used at Arroyo Grande and the Gilroy lads have been using it with devastating effects. The Mustangs have built their offense around a slick ball-handling quarterback, Tony Greco, an all-league end, Darrell Kretz, two all-league tackles, Jim Hori and Bob Badgley, and a pair of fleet halfbacks, Painter and Hanna.

After a week of tackling and blocking fundamentals the Padres should have more success stopping the Gilroy attack than they did in their hide-and-go-seek tussle with Hollister. The Hollister quarterback employed the tactics of a professional prestidigitator in thoroughly baffling the bug-eyed Padres. Captain Myron Branson will lead Bob Laugenour, Bob Lemmon, Gerald McDonald, Al Knight, Bill Chalkley, Pete Newell, Howard Roloff, Don Leidig, Mike Ricketts, and Ron Woolverton into tonight's fracas in an attempt to pick up a league win for the red and gray.

Coach Pete Glod's Padrecitos will go after their third victory of the season at the expense of the Gilroy Ponies in the 6 o'clock prelim. The little Padres looked the part of a solid ball club in holding off the classy Hollister Hayseeds last Friday night. A pair of tough breaks went against the scrappy Carmel midgets but they were in the game all the way. Captain Del Redding will open with Ray March, Merle Pitman, Jon Chase, Norman Longaker, Hans Petereit, Ted Ledbetter, Warren Masten, West Whitaker, Don Rowe, and Kyrk Reid. The Gilroy Babes dropped a 13-0 decision to the King City limiteds last Friday so tonight's clash should be rated even-steven.

PADRES GET BELTED AT HOLLISTER

Button, button, who's got the button? It was supposed to be football at Hollister last Friday night but after four quarters of fruitless search for the prolate spheroid the Padre gridders would gladly settle for a snappy game of button hunting. Artie Sonniksen, all-league quarterback, was at the helm for the Haybalers and his deft manipulation of the football would do justice to the great Eddie Lebaron. After 48 minutes of wheeling, dealing, faking, and keeping, this nifty qb had piloted his mates to a 45-6 win over the befuddled Padres. In justice to the local preps, the officials, spectators, and announcer were just as confused as to the whereabouts of the ball. A hard-charging line and two sets of fleet halfbacks provided the necessary props for Sonniksen The Magician.

Carmel received the opening kickoff and put together a pair of first downs on some good slant running by Ron Woolverton and Lou Jaramillo. However, the Carmel attack stalled at midfield and the Padres were forced to kick. From their own 24-yard line, the Haybalers reached pay dirt in eight plays, helped along by two offside penalties. Power thrusts by Ben Parks, fullback, and off-tackle slants by Flores, fleet right half-back, did the damage to the Padres. A recovered fumble set up the second Hollister score which came easy. However, the Padres roared back to the Hollister 2-yard line just before the half ended and appeared headed for six when fumbilitis again betrayed the red and gray. Taking over on the 2-yard stripe, the Haybalers ate up the 98 yards in one big chunk as Flores ran over and away from the Carmel secondary. Carmel hit the scoreboard in the fourth quarter as a Ricketts to Laugenour aerial covered the last fifteen yards.

A fired-up gang of Carmel lightweights made a battle of it all the way before losing to the Hollister Hayseeds, 13 to 0. Captain Del Redding led his mates in a slam-bang defensive game to throttle the famed Hollister attack which had to rely on a fumble and an intercepted pass to hit the score column. The hard-charging Hollister line stymied the Padrecito attack, but the fine kicking of Kyrk Reid, Carmel fullback, kept the play in Hollister territory most of the time. Exceptional defensive play by Norm Longaker, Redding, Jon Chase, Hans Petereit, Ray March, and Millard Martin stood out for the little Padres.

CLEAT MARKS

Football at its best was on display at the MPC stadium last Saturday night when the Lobos entertained the Cal Poly Frosh eleven. The Fosh came with a rush in the second half to overcome a 6-0 deficit and edge the Lobos, 7 to 6. A roly-poly qb, cool as a chunk of ice, engineered the visitors to the close victory, passing with bore-sight precision and mixing the plays in Frankie Albert style. The Lobos host the Grant JC of Sacramento tomorrow night at MPC stadium. . . . If the windows shake tonight it won't be an earthquake, just the Monterey [illegible] at the Monterey High field. The Watsonville Wildcats have a line which could well grace a college team and the Toreadores also have a bulldozer effect up front. Monterey is equipped with a little more power in the backfield but Watsonville enjoys a speed factor which could spell the difference in the game. . . . Lewis and Nelson, Pacific Grove's high-scoring

Civil Air Patrol Will Stage SARCAP Nov. 2 At Carmel Valley Base

Officer. Warrant Officer Camilla Jenkins and her cadet daughter form Squadron No. 54's mother and daughter team, for CAP is often a family affair. Among other senior members are Warrant Officer George L. Herzenberg, Wynne and Sheila Hutchings, Stanley Falkenberg, Johnny Johansen — a Royal Canadian Air Force pilot during the past war, who is responsible for the excellent training manual for Canadian pilots—Richard Stilwell, George Owens, Clinton Colburn, Mateo Genovese, Sgt. Leon Braskamp, and Robert Snowdan.

Six days before Pearl Harbor Civil Air Patrol was organized by the Office of Civilian Defense in an effort to mobilize private aircraft and civilian pilots into a "home-front airforce". During the early days of World War II, CAP patrolled thousands of miles of coastline looking for enemy submarines (and is credited with sinking at least two); towed targets for anti-aircraft maneuvers; flew missions to aid in testing radar operators, and ferried innumerable planes and supplies across country thereby releasing Airforce, Navy, and Marine pilots for necessary overseas duty. After the war, when CAP activity was lapsing to a few last feeble wing-flutterings of the single engine Beech-craft, Piper Cub and L-type planes that are privately owned and maintained by its membership, the organization received a brand new peace-time mission of air search and rescue and the status of official auxiliary of the United States Air Force. This shot-in-the-arm was administered at the insistence of General Carl Spaatz, USAF-Ret. who is now chairman of the CAP National Executive Board.

In California at least 90% of the search missions for planes lost in the mountains is done by CAP pilots flying volunteer missions in their own planes, with no remuneration from the government, from the over 100 airfields throughout the state. These pilots are assisted by ground rescue teams who are trained in first aid, staff officers who direct the search and coordinate the efforts of ground and air rescue crews, as well as the world's largest non-military radio network. Not only do they function in rescue work for downed aircraft, but also in searches for people lost in the forests and mountains, in evacuation of ill and injured from isolated areas, and lend assistance in almost every other type of emergency or disaster. CAP pilots were in the disaster zone for rescue work and transporting of supplies immediately after the first explosion at Texas City on April 16, 1947; they rescued marooned families in the Missouri River floods, and the CAP radio network was alerted for communications traffic out of the Bakersfield area during the earthquakes this summer.

Warrant Officer George L. Herzenberg is responsible for cadet training in the local squadron. Next to the Air Search and Rescue Mission, this is the single biggest job of both the national and local organization. Cadets are given pre-flight instruction in meteorology, navigation, aerodynamics, aircraft engines and photography. Each meeting night there is a half-hour's military drill. Indoctrination talks—supplemented by films and other training aids—are well rounded courses in citizenship and international affairs. CAP cadets learn by doing. They learn navigation by use of actual charts and maps; they are taught rudimentary first aid; operation and maintenance of radio sets and broadcasting equipment; and through their actual participation in SARCAP operations as observers, first aiders with the ground rescue crews, and radio operators, they develop a sense of individual responsibility as a member of a highly organized team as well as self reliance and clear-headedness that is invaluable in time of emergency. Most noticeable is an ever-growing awareness of the individual's responsibility to the local and national community, and a deep appreciation of just what it means to be an American. That one loves what one works for is the theory back of the high-calibre instruction in all fields, and the fine example of disinterested service provided by the senior members of the organization. These young men and women are not just learning—they are an integral part of the Defense Establishment of the United States. Boys who complete the three-year course of instruction provided by CAP are given priority status if they choose the Air Force as a career. High School students desiring information concerning the CAP training program may get in touch with Warrant Officer Herzenberg at the Del Monte Aircraft hangar, Naval Air Station, on Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

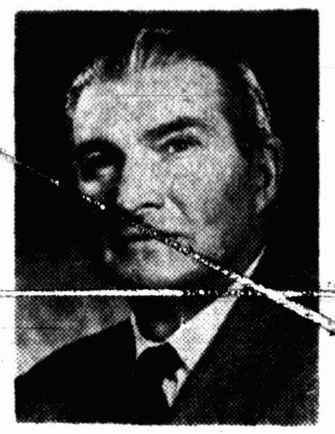
VOTE # on 3 YES

Dear Voter:



You will be asked in November to vote for one of two candidates for the office of Judge of the new Municipal Court in Monterey. As one of the two candidates running for this office, I ask your support.

I am an attorney, having practiced law in this county for sixteen years. I am a college graduate and law school graduatee while my opponent is neither.

He never attended law school nor has he been admitted to the Bar.

The new Court will handle many cases of a type formerly decided by the Superior Court of this county, dealing with fields of law in which my opponent has had neither training or experience. California law requires Judges of Municipal Courts to be lawyers with both training and experience. My opponent, however, is exempt from this requirement only because he is an incumbent Justice of the Peace.

If you had to have an operation would you want the doctor to operate in the dark? Certainly not. If your legal rights have to be decided by a Judge, you will not want a Judge who is in the dark about the law. You should vote for me as the only candidate with legal training.

I have served our country in two wars, and this community in many civic posts. Only by electing me can you give the new Municipal Court a qualified Judge.

Very truly yours,

SHELBURN ROBISON.

They are "changing the guard" Wednesday night about 7:00 o'clock and the police office was bulging with nattily uniformed cops and Chief Clyde Klaumann, who didn't have to go to the city council meeting because he'd been excused to give a talk to the Boy Scouts.

"I have a lot of respect for the influence of the Boy Scout ideals on growing youngsters," said Klaumann. "When I was a kid, I couldn't put anything over on my mother because she'd say, 'On your Scout Oath, is that true?' and darn it, I couldn't lie to her."

Officer William Weeks could go him one better, "I can still repeat the Scout Oath."

This was the Chief's fourth speech of the week. Previously he's addressed two kindergartens and a first grade at Woods School on the subject of growing up to be good citizens, and the policemen are the children's friends.

They had ample opportunity to demonstrate it this week. The department was up to its neck in complaints about juveniles. More little tikes were wandering out of their play pens, menacing traffic with their scooters, disturbing the ill and nervous with the roar of their roller skates than there were merchants forgetting to lock their doors last week.

Most of it, though high drama in nursery circles, was handled with routine good nature by the department. One incident, however, produced a reprimand, and not for the children.

Superintendent of the telephone office called the Carmel Police at 10:00 o'clock at night to say that a child had called central saying he couldn't find his father and mother. Operator said the previous week she had received the same call from the same number. She had phoned a neighbor and the neighbor had found two small children alone and had put them to bed. Police officer on duty phoned the children to ask them to put on the porch light so the patrolman could find the house, and the mother answered. She had just returned, and protested that she had been gone only half an hour. The officer, remembering one of Carmel's bitterest tragedies of the war years, when three children of a soldier on combat duty overseas had burned to death in a frame house while their mother and grandmother were spending the evening in a local bar, told the mother, who is an army wife, "Our police in cases involving military personnel is to report them to their superior officers."

Last week's activities wasn't all kids. There was the usual run of drunks, people who left lights on, doors open, and merchandise outside in the business district; and somebody carted off the cash register at Hillyer's restaurant. The management had banked the money, but cash registers are expensive and this was a new one.

Cause for gloom yesterday among the "regulars" was the loss by 13 points of the pistol shoot against the special police. Score 1285 to 1298. "We'll take them next time," vows the Chief. "We'll hold your coat and wish you luck while you do," promises the Pine Cone reporter.

Police team in Wednesday's shoot: Chief Klauman, Earl Wermuth, Jim Kelsey, Bill Weeks, and Noel Chrabut. Specials' team: Clinton Colburn, Carl Patnude, Wes Wesley, Vince Torras and Paul Funchess.

to install "traps" or purifying devices?

Obviously, our official and semi-official bodies either believe that the situation has not reached a critical stage, or they fear that the passage of such an ordinance would slow up the settlement of industry here or work a hardship on those already established.

As to the first objection, we invite anyone to go to the top of the hills and look to the north and east at the plumes of thick yellow or black fumes drifting from the Moss Landing developments, and the clouds of white dust rising from the cement plant on the Gavilan foothills. Envisage a hundred such aerial sewers ringing the bay, spewing their contents unrestricted! The time to place reasonable restraints is now, before the situation becomes intolerable and conformance with an ordinance becomes difficult and costly.

To the fearful, we say that the business which would refuse to build in the bay area because of such an ordinance would be no asset to the community in any case. To wait until a number of industries have constructed their plants, planned their production techniques, and begun operation and then to pass such an ordinance, forcing them to close down or curtail business while installing the "traps" or purifiers, would be basicly dishonest and far more costly in cash and public relations. Furthermore, although we are speaking now only as the problem concerns the industrialist, there is a whole Pandora's Box of problems which involves the homeowner, the renter, the agriculturist, the resort owner, the hospital and the character of the Peninsula. How would smog affect them?

Last year our County budget included a considerable sum for advertising Monterey County as a residential and resort area, and for its industrial opportunities. The sum was augmented by funds raised by private interests. How much does it cost to pass an ordinance and run it in the paper? (About $30.00). And what is lost by it? (Nothing).

We are a Planning Commission and we believe it is our responsibility to make pertinent suggestions to legislative bodies and the public concerning present or future needs.

We are also citizens and we want action.

The Warriors whipped a good San Francisco Bronco eleven last Sunday as Gabby Sims again provided the touchdown spark for the soldiers. POINT LOBOS RESERVE

This week's quotation: "We no longer destroy great works of art. They are treasured and regarded as of priceless value; but we have yet to attain the state of civilization where the destruction of a glorious work of Nature, whether it be a cliff, a forest, or a species of mammal or bird, is regarded with equal abhorrence".

—Henry Fairfield Osborn.

People are usually surprised to learn that we have kingfishers at Point Lobos. At least two pairs apparently find the shallow tide pools along the shore very much to their liking. Probably one pair nested in the rock crevices at Blue Fish Cove and another in one of the caves near China Beach, for to both places birds were noted going with food.

I have seen them at practically all the shoreline places where they can find a perch above shallow water. This includes the cliffs at Bird Rocks, at Sand Hill Cove, and near the Big Dome. At times they perch in dead cypress snags in the Grove and splash into the water after the fingerling fish.

At first it seemed odd to me, too, to hear a voice along the ocean, which I associated with a trout stream. But now I'm accustomed to the kingfisher's rattling noise as it is surprised from some hidden perch.

Evidently these fishing fellows have been here for some time for they are mentioned in the investigations of 1935. Ours are more fortunate than those which depend on hatchery ponds to supply them trout, for they then eventually end up in a steel trap set on top of a post. This is a common trick known to fish hatchery men.

The belted kingfisher is easily recognized and remembered once one has seen it. Most of the back, wings, tail and head are light blue or blue-grey. White is the belly color, with the same for the throat. The throat and belly are separated by a broad dark band which gives it the named "belted". It is a larger bird than a robin with a big and long bill, and it always looks like it needs a haircut for its crest is even more ragged than the Stellar Jay's.

At times we may see them hovering over a particular spot, but mostly they get small fish by falling into the water from a high perch. Ordinarily the kingfisher nests in holes in sand banks, but I believe ours utilized holes in the granite cliffs or rock shelves in much the same manner as our nesting guillemots.

Percy Gray

One of the Peninsula's first artists and California's pioneer landscape painter, Percy Gray, died in his San Francisco studio last Friday morning of a heart attack. Mr. Gray was 83.

Mr. Gray's paintings of the coast and landscape around Monterey and Carmel found wide acceptance with the general public and brought him many honors including awards at the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915. He first rose to prominence through the sketches he made at the Harry K. Thaw trial for the murder of Stanford White which were widely and sensationally reproduced in all the Hearst newspapers.

An early member of the Carmel Art Association, he made his home in San Anselmo with his late wife, the former Miss Leone Plumley Phelps, until her death 18 months ago.

Prior to his marriage to her in 1923, he lived in the Sherman Rose adobe on the Mesa, now the home of Mrs. Guy Catlin. He was responsible for saving the building from destruction and caused its removal to the Mesa from its former location in downtown Monterey. The garden is still as he laid it out in authentic Spanish style.

Those who worked with him declare that he was an unfailingly pleasant person, very gentle and very sweet. He leaves many warm friends among the artists here. He was a member of the Bohemian Club, The Family, and the Society of Western Artists.

He is survived by his sisters, Miss Louise Gray and Mrs. Marion Murch, and three brothers, Alexander, Alfred and Herbert.

Funeral services were held Monday in San Francisco with the Reverend Lynn T. White, Sr., officiating. Friends who wish to show their remembrance of Mr. Gray are requested by his family to do so in the form of donations to the Society of Western Artists.

A nickel is no non-entity at the PAPER BAG. It'll fetch you a five-cent Christmas card that doesn't look like one! (I like to send a lot, myself). Instead, each of the various gold-bordered designs resembles the gayer European imports. For a welcome Christmas gift, see the PAPER BAG'S California daily engagement calendar — quite a work of photographic art—boxed with a mailing label. For a small child's gift, look no farther than the cloth "Peggy" books at the PAPER BAG. They can be washed, starched and ironed! When the child outgrows the pictures, they can be appliqued to clothing and bibs. Don't overlook the hilarious cartooned cocktail napkins for your Election-Night party. Two patterns for each political leaning. The PAPER BAG, in the Golden Bough Court off Ocean Avenue, is worth some shop scouting of your own.

A basic white blouse for your suit can be — well, a utility essential—or it can be a costume-maker, a hand detailed beauty by Yolande. The new Fall Yolande designs are in at the SILVER THIMBLE, and you'll love their attractive differentness. They have all the old-fashioned attributes of a "lady"—feminine without being "fussy", and adaptable to any company, to softly tailored or severely cut suits. Take your choice —nylon or rayon crepe, nylon linen or tricot—for one of your most satisfactory buys. More good news from the SILVER THIMBLE on Dolores Street is a new line of rayon slips by the famous Fischer. With the same-as-always impeccable Fischer cut for custom fit, they are—three cheers!—less expensive than other fabrics. Another SILVER THIMBLE shopper gave cheers — and took three Fischer slips!—for quite another reason: she is one of the occasional people who are unable to wear nylon.

Col. and Mrs. Hillyer, who run the friendly little coffee shop on San Carlos Street just south of Ocean, have a healthily sizable brood of grown-up offspring—but only one restaurant. So HILLYER'S RESTAURANT gets the "only child" treatment—All the Attention!—and its owners say it's "the best eating place west of Chicago"! Now (like ballet lessons added to French, tennis and piano) HILLYER'S has a brand new chef, Robert C. Barrett, with his wife Sylvia as hostess and head waitress, and Marion Duber as Salad Specialist. But HILLYER'S is no "brat"! You can have breakfast, lunch or dinner from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Reasonably priced, too. Dinner is $1.50 to $2.00, lunch 75 to 90 cents. Here's a good lunch for today: delicious club sandwich only 75 cents, and homemade soup, fresh every day.

My shopping turned up a story, and scouting MISCELANEA on Sixth Avenue became an adventure. Before I asked about the tiny, beautifully carved wood animals, I could already see them treasured. The bowlegged bulldog and other canines by dog fanciers and miniature collectors. The exquisite fawn and other forest creatures by nature lovers. The hissing gander and the ewe with twin lambs by ranch enthusiasts. The polished, fine-grained woods — cherry and apple, sycamore, holly and black walnut, water birch and gumwood—by everyone who cherishes lovely home accessories. But these MISCELANEA treasures are more—they're Americana, the result of native "whittling" talent. It was noted and encouraged among students by the director of a remote Blue Ridge Mountain school that teaches modern agricultural methods to North Carolinians who still speak 18th Century English! Some of the lively replicas are in the sidewalk display case, but you must go upstairs to MISCELANEA and see them all—the bulging pelican, the red squirrel and the challenging fox, the drowsing cat with tucked-under paws.

Surely, as the, er, mists of fall swirl about us, it is not such a jolt to the sensibilities to think about Christmas?

Cards, and gift papers, and also, please, the gifts to accompany them. The Poor Scholar has a fixation about books making the best gifts—lifelong reminders of friendship.

Especially it is not too early if you want something very special for someone equally special. It's a good idea to drop around and talk it over, and be assured of getting what you want when you want it.

And, of course, if you have overseas packages to think about, it is not one minute too early.

The Poor Scholar really doesn't intend to be a common scold, but after all. . . . —Adv.

100 YEARS EXPERIENCE
Harnessing the water power of the Sierra

1852 —Water was first put to work in Sierra gold mines served by South Yuba Water Co., a P. G. and E. parent.

1889 —Water power became electric power in this early Electra plant. Former hydraulic miners helped build it.

1949 —Getting the most out of water power, this compact new Electra has five times the capacity of the old plant.

All through the Sierra country you'll see P. G. and E. hydro-electric plants taming mountain water to bring power to you. Here, as elsewhere on our system, careful management and constantly improved efficiency have helped reduce electric rates far below the U. S. average. Today you pay $2.50, on the average, for electricity that would have cost $20 in 1889. This century of P. G. and E. experience has made good electric and gas service truly cheap throughout Northern and Central California.

is a gilt-edged opportunity to replenish your season's wardrobe. A chance, in fact, to have "more wardrobe" because these beautiful buys start at just $8.95. You'll find all types of Fall materials and styles in plaids and checks and sharkskins. I had a pre-sale peek at the HARRIET DUNCAN skirts on one of those chilly days we had this week, and just looking at the colors—cross my heart!—made me warmer! These are all new Fall skirts, so HARRIET DUNCAN'S on Sixth Avenue must be like people who have too many kittens in the house—they have to find new homes for them early!

Whether your wardrobe is right up to the mode or conservatively classic, it's a special delight to find just-right accessories that distinguish your costume. Two that truly qualify are new arrivals from Hawaii at the SONG OF THE ISLANDS, one of the Pine Inn shops on Sixth Avenue. Very jaunty are multiple strands of shining brown koa seeds from the "Hawaiian mahogany" tree, strung in two designs. Try the "plain" necklace — crosswise-strung and only $1.50—on a pink or blue blouse or sweater. To wear with a melon, green or beige Fall dress, the "fancy" strands are attractive, and just $2.50. And by all means, koa seeds curled into chubby matching earrings, $1.50 and outstanding. Also new and different at SONG OF THE ISLANDS are "everlasting" corsages of Hawaiian baby woodroses and uki grass, a symphony of brown and beige. Lovely on your coat or suit jacket. You might keep these, and other Hawaiian imports at SONG OF THE ISLANDS, in mind for early Christmas shopping.

This is one of those experiences that is funny Afterwards — my friend's "HEARTHSTONE complex". While she answered the phone, one child stepped on broken glass, another scalded a hand under the hot water faucet, and the baby swallowed a button. At the end of the session with the doctor, the young mother burst out, "On days like this, all I can think of is to ask my husband to take me to dinner at an adult, civilized place like the HEARTHSTONE. Am I being an escapist?" She felt sheepish and relieved when he laughed, "Why a serene change of scene is a tonic if you have no more problems than politics, taxes, inflation and war!" Without this informal "medical endorsement," the HEARTHSTONE restaurant on Ocean Avenue would win the approval of every diner who likes being "pampered". That delectable meat cookery, hickory charcoal broiling, has everything to go with it, even an other-worldly atmosphere.

Kiss Me Kate Next Production At Wharf Theatre

700 Peninsulites Turn Out To Hear Speaker At League's

Approximately 700 people turned out for the local speech of Senator William Knowland at the Fair Grounds Monday night. Senator Knowland spoke upon the situation in Korea and what he described as the anomaly of a war which, due to the rotation of chairmen in the United Nations Security Council, is often led by a nation which the free world considers one of the combatants. He compared it to asking a known arsonist to be chief of the Fire Department every seven months.

The hall at the Fair Grounds was elaborately decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni's committee and featured ten-foot portraits of the Republican candidates by Pat Cunningham.

Senator Knowland closed his speech with an appeal for full ticket support, pointing out that a president needs party support all the way up and down the line.

At the Rally Club meeting on Monday, plans for the Homecoming activities on Oct. 25, were discussed. This game is with Menlo and is the last game the team will play on the home field. There will be a contest for the best float and the best decorated car on Friday, October 24, in the big parade held in Monterey. A dance that Friday night will be sponsored by the Circle K, and the after-game dance Saturday by the Rally Club.

On Tuesday, a very successful pot-luck supper was enjoyed by the members of the Associated Women Students (AWS). It started at 5:00 and lasted until 8:00 o'clock. The supper was held in the Student Union.

Three Carmel girls are members of the scholastic society, Alpha Gamma Sigma. Donna Douglas and Diane Lewis are members from last year, and Barbara Balzar is an associate member because she was a life member of CSF at Carmel High School.

Jim Thompson and Jerry Colman are going out for the basketball team at the College. Practice started last week and is held at the Monterey High School gym in the evening. The reason for this time is so it does not conflict with the High School practice.

On October 25, the Journalism class is planning a trip to Stanford, to look at the Journalism department there. While at Stanford, they will also attend the football game between the Indians and Washington. Mr. Mel Huden, the Journalism instructor, will be the faculty member for this trip.

This afternoon (Friday) all students who wish to attend the Marine Band Concert at Fort Ord, will be excused from their afternoon classes to attend the matinee. Many of the clubs took on the job of selling tickets for this affair in order to obtain more money for buying uniforms for the college band.

Ever stop to think why train travel—and especially S. P. Pullman travel—is such a restful, relaxing and satisfying way of going places? Actually there are lots of reasons—some big, some small. Mostly it's because everything is done so smoothly and unobtrusively for your comfort and pleasure.

What other mode of travel gives you all this? OUR SCHOOLS ARE IN TROUBLE! Because of the inflation, soaring birth rate, and huge out-of-State population increase since the end of the War, most school districts in California today just don't have enough money to make ends meet!

PROPOSITION 2 IS THE ANSWER. Proposition 2 gives school children and taxpayers both a break by increasing the State's share of school support—thus keeping our schools open without increasing the tax burden on homeowners.

WE ALL WANT BETTER SCHOOLS. We may differ deeply on election day over candidates and other ballot issues, but we all agree our children's educational needs must be met. That's why Democrats and Republicans, labor, business and farmers, all say: Whatever you do—

Last Friday night, a unique and professional exhibition was put on by the Carmel Band at Hollister. The band marched on the football field, dressed in their grey uniforms, carrying red three-foot letters, spelling out Carmel Padres. They laid the letters down, still in the same words, and formed a big letter H in front of the Hollister stands. Then Soc came rushing on the field pushing a small coke stand. The band gave the impression that they had forgotten their musical duties and ran for the cokes, suddenly striking up, The Sausage Grinder Lament, or as we call it, Where Has My Little Dog Gone, by blowing on bottles. It was greatly appreciated by the whole stand. They then went into the letter H and came back in front of the Carmelites, picking up their letters and standing in a semi-circle with Carmel Padres spelled out and playing the school song, with the cheering section joining in singing.

Also last Friday, Spanish teacher and City Councilman Donald Craig was all ready to pass out test paper, and in walked several students of the Spanish 3 Class, with two birthday cakes glowingly covered with candles, a pinata filled with candies, a brand new bottle of ink, and a basketful of ice cream bars. The celebration, Mr. Craig's birthday. He claimed, when asked how old he was, "I am 33 for the next six years." It was the best test we ever had. A test of mind over matter.

This was test week at school. The Juniors and all new students (except the eighth graders) were given the Henmon Nelsen Differential Aptitude Test. It covers eight areas, which are somewhat influenced by what you're taught, but mostly aptitude. The areas are verbal, numerical, abstract, space, mechanical, clerical, spelling and sentences. The eighth graders are being given the California Achievement Tests.

The results of both tests are used for personal, vocational and academic guidance purposes. The strength and weakness are found, and there, more education is applied.

The Winter Ball committee met Thursday at noon. This is the planning committee made up of all the sub-committee heads. They have some new and different ideas planned for the first formal of the year, so it can't help but be very successful.

Thursday evening the ninth grade parents met with the teachers in the school library. These meetings are held so the parents and teachers may get together and have more time for personal discussion.

Tonight a second rooters' bus travels to Gilroy, but this time with an added attraction in the form of a pep band, which will play all the way over. Here's hoping the spirits are high enough after the game so they will play all the way back, too.

Like Ike Stamps Do Not Raise Funds For Republican Campaign

Dorothy Chapman at the Carmel Republican Headquarters announces that a novel but unauthorized solicitation through the mails to "Fellow Voters" which purports to be in the interest of Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower has come to her attention.

The envelopes contain stamps with the Ike picture and request the sending of $1.00 to the "Political Campaign Bureau" in San Jose. Miss Chapman points out that the dollars do not help support the Republican party but profit unknown individuals.

The first of these mailing pieces were received in Carmel last Saturday. Similar campaigns have been tried in Berkeley and Fresno. No legal action appears possible due to the wording of the request since it promises nothing, however, Miss Chapman suggests that Carmel dollars should stay in Carmel.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY PLANS

Monterey Peninsula Democrats are planning a gigantic rally for the night of October 24 in the Exhibition Hall at the Monterey County Fairgrounds. A dollar-a-plate dinner has been arranged for all who attend.

Principal speakers for the evening will be George Miller, California Democratic chairman, and Gerald O'Gara, State Senator.

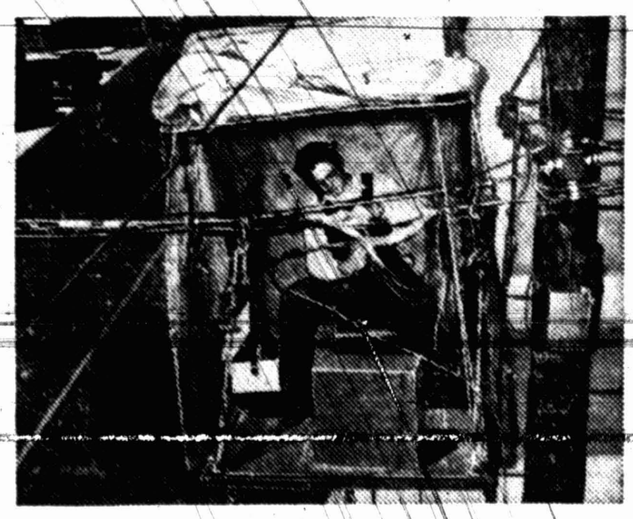
While working—on the job or around home—telephone men find these glasses virtually eliminate eye injuries

SAFE SIGHT | Their vision may be perfect, but most telephone men wear glasses now—special safety glasses that look like ordinary ones

Next time you see a group of telephone men at work, take a second look. Chances are you'll notice they're wearing glasses, perhaps in several different styles. A coincidence? No—for most telephone men now wear individually-fitted safety glasses, and experience has shown that they drastically reduce the danger of eye injuries. That's because they're rimmed, specially treated glasses that won't shatter or break under severe impact. In the last 2 years, they've been issued to some 20,000 Pacific Telephone men as a key part of our Eye Protection Program. And this program is actually only one part of the company-wide safety campaign that has made telephone jobs among the safest in the nation.



Far above the ground, this cable-splicer is completing an aerial splice. Looks hazardous, doesn't it? But the fact is, he's a lot safer than the average pedestrian crossing a busy street. The "messenger strand" from which his work platform is suspended will support a weight far in excess of the safety requirements. His glasses, safety belt, gloves, tools and methods of working are all carefully designed to guard his safety. And, of course—like telephone people everywhere—he observes the familiar Bell System creed: No job is so important and no service is so urgent that we cannot take time to perform our work safely. We think it's a good creed—especially important to us, to you and to the nation in these critical times.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Perhaps the best way to illustrate how low telephone rates are today is to compare our prices with those of other things you use every day—food, for instance. If the price of coffee, for example, had gone up no more, since 1940, than average telephone rates in Pacific Telephone's territory, you'd be able to buy coffee today for about 29 cents a pound.

Review Of Wade Parks Concert

By EBEN WHITTLESEY

The Musical Arts Club has rarely presented a local artist of more finished accomplishment than Wade Parks, who played for the members and guests of the club at Treasure Hall in Monterey last Sunday evening. That is not by any means to say that this young pianist is above criticism; but his attainments are such that he can be measured by the same yardstick as we may apply to nationally known musicians who appear here. His serious purpose is to enter the highly competitive arena of the concert stage.

Mr. Parks suffered the handicap of playing on a baby grand piano which seemed even smaller in contrast to the artist's tall and massive physique. The dynamic limitations of the instrument somewhat cramped his style.

The program was ambitious, varied and meaty. And it was not designed to spare the artist. One had a feeling that Mr. Parks was a little more at home with the moderns than with the time-honored concert classics, and for this reason it might have been better if he had started his concert with contemporaries and then worked backward. Not until he had completed Beethoven's Andante Favori and the Schubert Sonata in A major No. 9, did the young pianist seem to begin relaxing. The execution was good from the first, but the phrasing was not very expressive and the selections lacked coherence and free movement.

Chopin's Ballade in F minor found the artist really beginning to relax and play with freedom. He brought the dramatic piece to an exciting and skillfully executed climax.

After the intermission two Couperin pieces, La Fleurie and La Bersan, were played by the artist in a technique effectively simulating the harpsichord. These were appropriately followed by Ravel's musical tribute, Le Tombeau de Couperin, played with incisive vigor. The turbulent complexity of the music was fully exploited, and one felt the artist understood his material.

Brahms Capriccio opus 76, No. 1 seemed a little out of place between the Ravel and the Poulenc which followed, but it was played with lively enthusiasm. Poulenc's Novelette in C major and a Presto in B flat by the same composer were played with gay charm and saucy brilliance giving the feeling that the artist was thoroughly at home and enjoying himself.

Last number on the program was Debussy's L'Ile Joyeux, which rippled with life and urgency. The brilliant runs and presto figures were executed cleanly and effectively, with a vitality that was far more than mere showmanship.

As encores we heard Chopin's Third Etude, followed by the familiar Revolutionary Etude. The latter is, of course, a show-piece played so much as a vehicle of brilliant technique that it has lost much of its meaning. This artist played it with a fine restraint, and a dignity that rather enhanced its significance. We shall look forward to his continued progress with interest.

Mrs. McMahon To Be Speaker At League's Measures Meeting

Mrs. Llewellyn McMahon will analyze the pros and cons of the 24 propositions to be voted upon in the forthcoming elections at a meeting at the Monterey USO, Monday evening, October 27, at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. McMahon, who spoke two years ago on the ballot measures here, is an attorney with the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, engaged in research. Mrs. Eben Whittlesey, president of the Peninsula branch of the League of Women Voters, who are sponsoring Mrs. McMahon's talk, describes Mrs. McMahon as an "amusing and dynamic speaker."

Mrs. Whittlesey urges all voters and interested citizens to attend the meeting with the reminder that 24 ballot measures are difficult to vote upon intelligently without the sort of discussion Mrs. McMahon gives.

600 Attend Youth Center Party

Approximately 600 Carmel residents attended the second birthday party of the Carmel Youth Center last Saturday night, inspected the building and its improvements and generally enjoyed themselves.

Fred Godwin, elected for his third term as president of the Center's adult advisors on October 9, welcomed the many guests and thanked them for their participation in the support of the Center and read a best wishes telegram from the Center's first president, Bob Updike, now a student at Notre Dame university.

Among the guests glimpsed through the crowd during the evening were Mayor Horace Lyon and several of the City Council members.

Besides Mr. Godwin, the adults elected to the Youth Center board of directors at the October 9 meeting were P. A. McCreery, vice president, and Oscar Balzar, secretary.

The young officials of the Center decided after discussion that they will sell tickets on a new radio to raise funds for the TV set they have scheduled for their next major expenditure. The cable installation has already been taken care of through the generosity of Mr. C. V. Henderson, and $200 which the group voted to spend for it.

Curriculum Expert to Speak

For their next meeting on October 22, the Carmel PTA has arranged for Dr. Jay Davis Conner, a nationally known expert on curriculum, to speak. Dessert and coffee will be served to all mothers and fathers and teachers at 7:30 before the meeting starts at 8:00 o'clock in the new all purpose room at Woods School.

Effectiveness of modern methods has been increasingly questioned lately and for those parents, in particular, who have been concerned, the PTA has arranged this lecture.

At a recent meeting of the PTA executive board, the group went on record as supporting propositions No. 2 and No. 24 in the coming election.

Mrs. Laura Chester, widow of the late Lt. Col. Einar W. Chester, announced her daughter Carole's engagement to Lieut. John Cash, U.S.N., at a cocktail party Sunday at her home on Twelfth and Camino Real. Nearly forty guests were there to offer the young couple their best wishes.

Carole was a 1942 graduate of Carmel High School and has taken an active part in the Carmel Ski Club, and is this year's president of the Peninsula branch of the Army Daughters. During the war, Carole was a nurse's aide.

Lt. Cash, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cash of Long Island, New York, is currently at the Navy Post Graduate School. He is a pilot and attended Princeton and Cornell universities. He has a sister, Eileen, and a brother, Michael, still in high school.

Monterey Peninsula's Audubon Society will swing into another season with the feathered world and wild life in general, with a screen tour to The Four Corners, next Friday night, October 24. A magnificent new motion picture in colors, The Four Corners will be shown in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium. By a master of nature photography, Fran William Hall, the film will take the Audubon audience in arm-chair comfort to the Southwest's wilderness land where Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Arizona come together.

Audubon Screen Tour films are invariably fresh and original. In several instances, after they have been seen by Audubon audiences across the United States and Canada, the wild life features have been incorporated into commercial films to be shown to the popular theater audiences. Thus, in the Audubon Screen Tours, audiences have the privilege of enjoying a preview of rare film scenes later to be featured in widely advertised commercial enterprise.

Fran William Hall will be present next Friday night to conduct the Sunset audience through the vastness and scenic grandeur of The Four Corners, as well as to tell of the birds, insects and "nature red in tooth and claw" as he has filmed it in the wilderness.

Brown Twins in Europe

Sometime residents of Carmel, Mrs. Helen Brown's twin daughters, Miss Ellen Brown and Mrs. Jessie Joan Brown Bever, left aboard the Queen Mary early in September for an eight weeks' trip to Paris and the Cote D'Azur. The trip is actually a business junket for both of them, as Ellen is looking for inspiration for fabric designs in connection with her position as a designer for a New York fabric firm, while Jessie, who is fondly remembered in Carmel for her Pine Cone column The Dogs Do Bark, is traveling for the Textron Corporation in her capacity of stylist.

This winter may bring the girl's mother back to Carmel. At any rate, Mrs. Brown says she hopes she will be able to make the trip out from New York at that time.

What's In The Stars For You

By Ruth Goddard Bixler

One hesitates to generalize about people born under the highly complex mystical zodiacel sign of Scorpio, that is those born from October 23 to November 23 or those having this sign rising or their Moon in it. From this sign come the best, the finest and the most illumined souls among us, and also some of the most corrupt and degraded. So mystical is this sign that it is portrayed by not one but four symbols, the Scorpion, Serpent, Eagle, and Phoenix. The less evolved person under this sign may be suspicious, sarcastic, jealous, revengeful, downright dissolute, portrayed by the former two symbols, with stings respectively in the tail and the head. Then there are the brave, courageous, and illumined ones. One thing is certain, and that is that this sign is one of great dynamism, whether it holds the Sun, Moon or Ascendant, and it is important that people with this sign prominent find constructive channels for their unusual creative forcefulness. Planets ruling this sign are Mars and Pluto.

This is one of the most challenging of all the signs, for when these people overcome the very great temptations facing them and conquer themselves, they can mount on wings of the Eagle to outstanding material or spiritual success. Theodore Roosevelt rebuilt a body that was very weak into one of great strength through sheer self-control and determination.

Is it because the Eagle is its Symbol that this sign has produced more United States Presidents than any other? In addition to Theodore Roosevelt are John Adams, James K. Polk, James Garfield and Warren Harding. Both Harry Truman and General Eisenhower have their Moons in this sign. Perhaps that accounts for the stings of late from both sides in the political campaign. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we only had Will Rogers, a native of this sign, with us to clear the political atmosphere with his penetrating sense of humor? He is a splendid example of what Scorpio can be at its best. There is no sign capable of exerting greater charm or magnetism.

Some of the world's greatest mystics and ocultistis come from this sign. Mirza Husayn Ali, better known as Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i World Faith, has his birthday on November 12. Over a hundred years ago he was teaching the "oneness of the world" and advocating one world language, government, religion and universal education. Rudolph Steiner and Ralph Waldo Emerson had this sign Ascendant.

If you have a child born under this sign, you have a great responsibility to guide intelligently and direct wisely the great creative force into constructive channels. For if you are weak, indulgent or neglectful of him, he will be one of the first to rise up and accuse you when he is grown; if you have taken the time and patience to help him build worth while interests and constructive hobbies, he may be a blessing to you in your old age.

The later part of this year is a much more pleasant period for people under this sign than the first half. Mars was in this sign from January through August bringing activity but also irritations and annoyances. Up to October 21 Venus in the sign brings more harmony and happiness. Mercury in Scorpio from October 12 to the end of the month is mentally stimulating and may bring resting news from a distance. November should be a month when these people can accomplish a great deal. Those born from November 10 to November 15 have Uranus favorable through this year and next, making for opportune changes or interesting journeys and new outlooks aiding in growth and development.

Symphony To Open Golden Bough At Wednesday Preview

Next Wednesday evening the Monterey County Symphony will have the honor of opening the restored Golden Bough Playhouse at special preview of the plant at which the guests will be the shareholders and the press. The orchestra will perform the magnificent March of Dedication by Grieg. A varied program will follow. On the next evening a second preview will take place, honoring public officials together with the architects, engineers, material men and workmen who have constructed the beautiful new theatre.

On Friday, October 24, the formal public opening will occur, the feature being the first showing on the Peninsula of Somerset Maugham's latest film based on his own short stories, Encore, which is said to surpass both his Quartet and Trio. Former Golden Bough film policies will be resunmed—single bills; complete programs beginning at seven and at nine; selected short subjects and fresh newsreels; matinees Saturday, Sunday and Wednesday.

President Tom Elston and Doc Staniford reported upon the Kiwanis district convention in Sacramento last week. Irving Chapman of Fullerton was elected District Governor.

VALLEY COLUMN

Latest word from the road front indicates that it will be another three months before any positive decision will be forthcoming from the Monterey County Planning Commission. Carmel Martin, chairman of the commission, told Fred Whelan, prime mover in the cause of alternate plan B, that the commission recommends a complete survey be made of the Valley road and proposed plans A and B. It will take approximately 90 days before the necessary maps and other data can be made up and presented to the Planning Commission.

All the members of the county planning commission attended the lunch at the Los Laureles Lodge Saturday before they took first hand looks at the sections under controversy. Among the many who presented their views to the commission were Mrs. Ruth Blanchard, who vigorously protested that plan A would take off 70 feet of her property at its west end and 20 feet off of it in front of the doctors' offices, including a handsome oak tree; Herb Brownell, who protested that a hundred-foot roadway as per plan A would bring the road too close to his home and Fred Whelan, who represents over 100 Valley property owners supporting plan B.

Everybody with any money at all will be welcomed in the patio of Wibby's Carousel where a bumper crop of handwork, white elephants, pies, cakes, cookies and fresh fruits and vegetables go on display at 10 o'clock in the morning. "Better get there early if you have your eye on any special thing," says Mrs. Robert Getz, who is in charge, adding that there is sure to be something on sale you'll want.

A Halloween Dance to which everybody is invited is to be given Saturday night at the Holmans Guest Ranch by the members of the Carmel Valley Horsemen's Association. There will be dancing to a western orchestra both inside and outside in the patio, and the many people who hate to wear costumes will be glad to hear that fancy dress will not be worn, that is, if you don't call square dance clothes costumes.

Council Considers Putting Wires Underground

In an informal discussion with Pacific Gas and Electric officials, following an adjourned council meeting Wednesday night, the city councilmen looked over the advantages and disadvantages to the city of granting the utility company an indeterminate franchise, such as the county and the other cities of the county with the exception of Monterey now have. They also considered the possibility of getting the wires underground.

P. G. and E. officials present were T. E. Ward, Arch Balchin and Lloyd Weer.

The utility's 50-year franchise with the city still has 33 years to go. Advantages of the indeterminate franchise amounts to an increase in revenue of from $100 to $200 a year, it was estimated. Advantages to the utility are a technical matter of the requirement for franchises to extend fifteen years beyond the term of a bond issue.

It was brought out that the city has the power to pass an ordinance at any time forcing the utility to place its power lines underground, however, if the company can show that these improvements have increased its costs excessively, it has justification in asking the state utilities commission to authorize a raise in rate. This point was raised when Mayor Horace Lyon said that he'd like to see all of the wires in Carmel underground. More practical was the possibility of limiting the underground area to the business district, because the revenue to the company is greater and the necessity of a raise in rate is not so likely.

Though the lines would be buried at company expense, the property owner must bear the cost of laying the wires from the property line to his premises, an amount that would run from $100 to $300, was the estimate.

The meeting closed with the offer of the utility representatives to arrange for the P. G. and E. attorney to be present at a council meeting to give the council authoritative information. The council decided it would be necessary to feel out the Carmel inhabitants before they undertook any action.

Mayor Lyon expressed the wish that if the business district were to become an underground area, the two blocks on Scenic that now have poles and wires be included.

Business of the official meeting was a motion by John Chitwood for the city to waive the $5.00 fee which the council had failed to collect from A. C. Anderson when he had applied for permission to remove a pine tree, and which he now refuses to pay, and to grant him permission to remove the tree "at his own expense" since they had agreed to the removal some time ago, and it "wouldn't be logical to reverse ourselves now."

Mary Dummage

One of Carmel's early settlers, Mrs. Mary Louisa Dummage, died of a heart attack Wednesday night at her home on Dolores Street. She was 82 years old and had lived in Carmel for fifty years.

She purchased her first piece of property here in 1903, the corner lot of Dolores Street and Ocean Avenue, where she founded Carmel's first restaurant.

She is survived by her two sons, Leland Stallings and Robert Norton of Carmel and a daughter, Mrs. George Linsley of Menlo Park; a sister Mrs. Philip Wilson of Carmel and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Paul's Mortuary.

School Board To Hire Crossing Guard

Since October 1949, when the Carmel High School was required to remove the student safety officer at the Highway No. 1 and Ocean Avenue crossing, employment of a traffic guard has been urged. At the school board meeting Wednesday night, the members heard Monterey County District Attorney Burr Scott's opinion that the board may employ a guard; the board voted to do so immediately and also to investigate with the Highway Patrol whether they will undertake the customary arrangement in respect to his salary and supervision.

Salary raises for certified and non-certified teachers requested and postponed because of unknown budgetary drains last May were again discussed. The two new board members asked for more time to familiarize themselves with the procedure. The matter has been put on the agenda for the November 12 meeting.

Other business included asking for bids on the River School grading which Thomas Elston estimated at approximately $1000 and acceptance of an invitation to a dinner meeting for school trustees and supervisors at King City October 22.

LECTURE ON PROP. 5 and 6

E. Raymond Wilson, executive secretary of the Friends Committee on National Legislation in Washington, D. C. since its organization in 1943, will speak Sunday evening, October 19, starting at 7:30 o'clock, in the DeNeal Morgan Studio opposite the Church of the Wayfarer on Lincoln Street in Carmel. His subject will be Propositions 5 and 6 before the voters on November 4.

TO ATTEND HEART MEET

Dr. R. A. Kocher will attend the Twenty-Third Annual Postgraduate Symposium on Heart Disease October 22, 23, and 24 at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. Mrs. Kocher will accompany him and have a visit with their daughter, June, who is attending University of California, in Berkeley.

Carmel Martin Heads Committee To Re-Elect Jacobsen

Carmel Martin, leader in Monterey Peninsula affairs for many years, today announced formation of the Citizens Good Government Committee for Re-election of Supervisor Andy Jacobsen. Members include men and women leaders from all parts of the Peninsula, and all segments and walks of life. Martin will serve as chairman.

"We believe that a public servant who has devoted a tremendous amount of his personal time to giving us good government with low taxes should be given recognition at the polls November 4 for a job very well done," Martin declared. "We are vitally concerned in maintaining good, sound and economical government in Monterey County.

"Andy Jacobsen's record is outstanding. He has maintained a program for improving roads of this area to the very limit of funds available," Martin stated.

"He has gone all out in support of the County Planning Commission, assuring far-sighted development of our beloved Monterey Peninsula, for protection of property values, and maintaining esthetically pleasing structures in keeping with the traditions of all sections of the Peninsula.

"Costs of Monterey County government stand out most favorably when compared with costs in any county of comparable size in California," Martin said. "State Board of Equalization records show that Monterey County's tax rate of $1.47 the past four years, is fourth lowest in the entire state of California. This has been maintained despite tremendously increased costs caused by our heavy population increase."

A complete list of members of the committee working actively for Jacobsen's re-election will be announced later, Martin added.

Local Students To Have Holiday For Marine Band Concert

Carmel school children are released from classes this afternoon if they have tickets to the United States Marine Band concert at Fort Ord. Monterey County school bands will benefit from the proceeds which are ear-marked for band equipment and uniforms.

John Farr, music teacher at the Carmel High School, arranged for a caravan of cars which will take the students to the matinee. Other caravans are coming from as far away as San Jose.

To add to the impressiveness of the occasion, Marines who will attend the night performance have been requested to wear their full dress uniforms. Tickets may be obtained at the door before the performances.
